Did Someone Say Run For The Roses?

I can't wait to get back to Kentucky for the Derby Rally. I am looking forward to sitting on my human's lap while all our Airstream friends gather around the campfire. I have had a great winter this year. As most of you know I am a Senior Dog now. Actually, I recently found out I am 84 years old in your human years. I guess it makes sense that I am now retired and officially a Florida resident. While my humans were busy this winter renovating our new home, getting their Florida drivers license, library card and etc. I was busy getting to know all the young pups in the neighborhood. Each morning during my walk I got to get acquainted, if you know what I mean, with rosie, molly, tiggy and suzie. After my walk and meeting these young girls I usually try to sleep on each piece of furniture trying to be sure each chair has its share of my doggy scent.

Currently I am spending three weeks traveling North with my humans and another Kentucky Unit couple. While I continue to have my standard meals of lams senior dog food each day, my humans and the other couple seem to be trying to break a record for the most seafood they can consume. They brought home several bags of clams while in Cedar Key, FL. At our stop in Carrabelle, FL they showed up one evening with a half a bushel of oysters and three pounds of shrimp. We spent last night at the Mystic Springs Airstream Park and today there is talk of going to a seafood market in Pensacola to purchase even more seafood. I always look forward to my quiet time in the Airstream while the humans are out exploring the local area. I just hope they are not gone to long. At my age nature calls quite often.

See you down the road.

A Note From The Prez

Here comes the “Derby Reunion Rally”!

It has been a long cold winter for us “Snow Owls”. We are ready to leave right now!!!! In fact Pam and I are going out this coming weekend to blow the dust off the old girl. I have water in the lines, the hot water heater fired up, the fridge is on and Thursday night we are out of here!

We are going to have a blast at the Derby Rally. We have seventeen units committed to come, and I talked with another couple today!!

We have really missed you “Snow Birds” this winter.

May 1st is the deadline to register for the Good Sam Kentucky Samboree in Brandenburg, Ky. Be sure to write “Airstream Group” in the comment section so we can all park together. You can just roll into the Samboree and pay when you arrive, but you probably couldn’t park with the Airstream Group.

The Region 5 Rally in Springfield Ill. sounds like a great way to relive President Lincoln’s early life in law and politics. I ask that the Kentucky Unit members really try to attend, so we return the favor of having last year’s Region 5 Rally in Carrollton, Ky

If anyone has anything they would like to discuss at our business meeting, jot down some notes and we will put them on the table!

Can’t wait to see everyone !! Have a safe trip from Florida for those coming North. And to all members, have a safe journey to the Derby Rally.

If you need anything at all don’t hesitate to give us a call !!!
